Immun'Age

For improvement of Quality of Life, Fermented Papaya Preparation has excellent power!

Prof. Luc Montagnier
(Professor of Pasteur Institute, President of the World Foundation of Aids Research and Prevention)

"Through our researches on Fermented Papaya Preparation, we found out that this product has various remarkable benefits. In fact, I take two packets of Immu'Age a day myself when I feel concerned about my health condition, and also I handed it to Pope John Paul II for his health."

"As many people actually feel the benefit of Immu'Age, Fermented Papaya Preparation is the excellent nutraceutical food. I believe that it has a potential to play an important role to improve our future Quality of Life."

The news about the fact that Prof. Montagnier giving the Pope a box of Immu'Age received the headlines in news papers in France and Italy many times from June, 2002 to March, 2003. Immu'Age got became so popular that it has become difficult to find it in pharmacies in France.

Being active internationally as a key person to promote cultural exchange between France and Japan. The secret of her power is "Immune'Age"

"I have known "Immune'Age" for several years. I believe that Immune'Age even helped me to survive through a difficult operation when I had a serious disease. My father-in-law, who is a doctor, recommended Immune'Age to many people, so a lot of my acquaintances are fans of Immune'Age.

I actually heard an amazing news about Immune'Age from one of my friends who is the great-grandson of a famous Impressionist, Claude Monet. He is a painter himself, but he is confined to a wheel chair due to his own illness. One day his wife told me that he was feeling so down and would not even talk to her any more, so I gave him Immune'Age. 8 days after, she phoned me and said "We could have a dinner together for the first time in several months, and he even smiled at me!" A little later, I had another good news that he started painting again after a long break."

"Speaking for myself, I am working as an interior designer to produce big spaces such as exhibitions and often travel back and forwards between France and Japan by plane. 12 hours flight is quite tough physically and also once I start working, I walk around in large exhibition areas all day and working hour vary depending on the day. So I carry a few packets of Immune'Age in my every pockets possible so that I can take it whenever I need. I take many packets of Immune'Age a day especially at busy time like the night before exhibitions to give myself energy to move around and check everything in the last minutes. Thanks to Immune'Age I can still work intensively even with this age. The members of my company were complaining that I am too energetic to work with, but recently they also started taking Immune'Age!"

Interior designer / Ms. Chiyoko Motono (She was born in Tokyo, Japan and grew up abroad in various countries because her father was a diplomat. She has been living in France since 1968. She has been working as a producer to promote cultural exchanges between France and Japan and played an important role in the design management of French famous brand shop in Japan and the scenography of the Versailles Exhibition. She also runs a store called "Trocadero" in Minami-Aoyama, Tokyo, which mainly deals with interior decoration goods.)

"Immune'Age" brought a miracle to my old friend and me!

"Although it seems to be elegant, being a pianist is an occupation which requires physical strength. So I have been taking "Immune'Age" regularly for several years for my own health."

"The first impression I had of "Immune'Age" was that it does fill me with power of health. I can play the piano so energetically after taking Immune'Age. It also helps my concentration. Nowadays I always take 8 packets of Immune'Age before my concerts."

"Last autumn, I had a surprising experience. I heard that one lady, who took good care of me while I was studying in France, was not very well, so I decided to visit her when I had a chance to go to France for the concert. She lived in a small port town far from Paris. She used to be a very powerful lady and often told me "you have to fight for what you really want in your life.". However, she looked so down and week at the age of over 80 when I visited her."

"While having lunch with her with a little bit of sad feelings, she showed me a news article about the health recovery of the Pope and asked me "Do you know anything about this health food? The article says that this product is made in Japan." I realized that the health food she was talking about was "Immune'Age", the very same thing that I take every day for my own healthcare! What a coincidence! I didn't hesitate to make a quick international call to Japan and ask them to send it to her through the French distributor."

"A few months later, I received a thank-you letter from her. It said, "Thank you very much, Yoko. You are an angel God sent to us. I am grateful for this amazing miracle." Simultaneously with the miracle of the Pope which we saw in the French newspaper, I experienced the miracle myself in France."

"I had another news from her that a pharmacy in her town started dealing with Immune'Age and now she could get it easily. I hope that she will be able to keep having a healthy life with Immune'Age and so will I!"

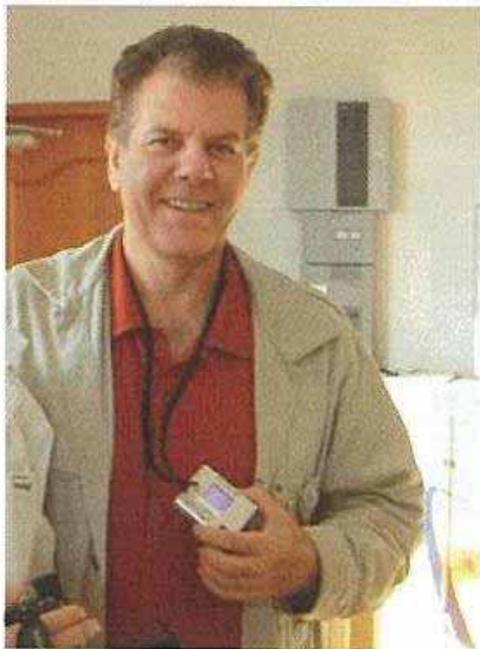

Ms. Yoko Tokue / Pianist (She was born in Tokyo. She started her carrier as a pianist when she was a junior high school student, and has given concerts all over the world. She is keen on charity activities for AIDS and refugees as well. She has just given the 4th AIDS charity concert, which she started in 2001 with World Foundation of AIDS Research and Prevention and will continue up till 5th in 2005.)

The famous French TV journalist made a documentary program on Immun'Age!

"I have heard of a supplement food which is so popular and fast vanishes from pharmacies shelves for a few years, but I have been thinking that it is not a kind of thing I personally need. However, a friend of mine recommended it to me strongly, so I just tried taking it. After a while, my physical condition got even better than ever, and I actually felt a benefit of it myself."

"This experience stimulated my curiosity as a journalist. I was particularly interested in the Japanese fermentation technology which makes "Immun'Age". This is how I decided to visit Japan and report on the Osato Research Institute, a Sake (Japanese Rice Wine) brewing company, Zen Temple and so on to know the roots of the amazing power of Immun'Age and made the documentary program. I wish more and more people in Europe would enjoy healthier lives through this program."

Mr. Jean Claude Bourret / Journalist

(He currently does some produces news programs including the weekend French news program "La Sing". His documentary program on "Immun'Age" was broadcasted all over Europe in March, 2004.)

Message from Osato Research Institute

20th century scientific progress has doubled humans' lifespan. Our lifespan is now very close to the one programmed in our genome, i.e. 100 to 120 years.

However, what is the use of living 120 years if it is to do so with degenerative diseases, losing intellectual and physical capacities?

The best quality of life for all is the goal of the Osato Research Institute. Immu'Age is the fruit of our anti-aging researches.

Every batch of Immu'Age is tested in vitro. It's antioxidative capacity is evaluated by ESR (electron-spin paramagnetic resonance).

Not only TV but also many magazines covered the story of "PAPAYA POWER". It has been drawing wide media attention in all over the world.

Immun'Age

Q&A

Q What does Immun'Age mean?

A It is a coined name created with the French words "Immun" and "Age". The aim of the Osato Research Institute is to improve people's Quality of Life. We named our product "Immun'Age" to promote our goal of "aging with health and beauty". For your information, the word "FPP" printed on the package stands for "Fermented Papaya Preparation"

Q What kind of power does Immun'Age have?

A Please refer to the interviews in previous pages of this Healthy Report regarding the power of Immun'Age. (Please note that they only refer to their personal experiences.) Immun'Age has a strong reputation among those who are diligent about taking care of their own health, regardless of gender or age, including those who are over forty and starting to feel the needs of healthcare, as well as young fit athletes.

Q Why is "Immun'Age" a granulated powder?

A Immun'Age is in granulated powder form and tastes rather sweet, so it is easy to take any time, even without water. Osato International, Inc. produces Fermented Papaya Preparation Powder with its own unique technique using non-GMO (non genetically modified organism) selected green papayas which grow on our contracted farm in Hawaii.

Q Where is "Immun'Age" made?

A Immun'Age is made in Gifu, a region in Japan richly endowed with natural resources. Osato International, Inc. produces "Immun'Age" at our factory, which is certified with ISO standards of the 9000 series (international quality control system standards) as well as ISO standards of the 14001 series (international environmental management system standards).
